eprom impresora Epson tx125 t25 tx135.rarbfcdm A: Yep. Use `rm -f eeprom_ip115.exe` A: In Windows, it is possible to open the command prompt using the keyboard shortcut `Ctrl + Shift + Esc`. This will open the command prompt. There are multiple ways to open the command prompt, for example: Start > Search > type cmd Start > Search > type cmd > in location bar type CMD>OK Start > search > type cmd > hit enter on search bar From the command prompt you can execute the following to remove the eeprom software: `cd` (change directory) `del` (remove) `md` (make a directory) `rm` (remove) `rmdir` (remove a directory) `mkdir` (make a directory) Example: `cd eeprom; del eeprom.exe` This would remove the eeprom software from your PC. Q: iAd on iPhone app I would like to implement iAd into my iPhone app, but my app will be tested on 3.1 and 4.2.x devices. What should I do to implement it? A: I'd recommend reading the Apple documentation, especially the 3.1 Compatibility section. If you can't use the following, you can use these steps: Add the required iAd libraries to your project Add the iAd framework to your app's info.plist If you do decide to go the route of using Ads, you will have to add code to tell the iAd framework to show an iAd on screen. You can do this in the `AppDelegate`, or in `application:didFinishLaunchingWithOptions:`, or in `applicationDidBecomeActive:` You can watch the WWDC 2010 session on this very topic (starting at around 8:45): Now, look around you. Does anybody have an iAd on the screen? Q: How to change a foreign key value when another foreign key value has been changed? I have these tables, games (id, name) chapter (id, name) player_chapters (game_id, chapter_id) targets (id, name, game_id)

Â· The seller has cleared all payment details.Q: Android: summing input numbers I am trying to display the sum of inputs on a textview. So far, I have tried using the doSum() method which didn't work. I have tried using the method sum (both getSum and postSum) but both just display the normal sum result, not the sum of the inputs. public class NumberActivity extends Activity{ int a; int b; int c; @Override public void onCreate(Bundle savedInstanceState) { super.onCreate(savedInstanceState); setContentView(R.layout.number_layout); a = 1; b = 2; c = 3; TextView tv = (TextView) findViewById(R.id.TextView01); tv.setText(getSum(a,b,c)); } public int getSum (int a, int b, int c) { return a + b + c; } A: The problem is when you call your getSum method you are not passing it all the values you need to pass it. Your code is calling getSum(int a, int b, int c) but you should be calling getSum(a,b,c) Have a look at the stackoverflow question I linked to above - you should use the latter format when asking questions like this.
